

Equality and Diversity UK
www.equalityanddiversity.co.uk

Bullying in the Workplace

Equality and Diversity UK

Top 5 tips for preventing bullying in the workplace

Bullying in the workplace can have a detrimental effect on employee wellbeing, productivity, and retention.

As an employer, you have a duty of care towards your employees and must do all you reasonably can to ensure staff wellbeing and prevent bullying in the workplace.

This course will provide you with key information to help you promote engagement and inclusivity in the workplace and avoid common pitfalls that can lead to costly tribunal claims.

Who is this best suited to?

Delegates from all sectors of work, including:

- Line managers, supervisors, and team leaders
- HR professionals
- Business owners
- Trade Union/employee representatives
- Individuals who wish to further their professional development

Equality and Diversity UK

What will I learn from this training?

The training will include:

- What is bullying in the workplace?
- Identifying the signs and causes of bullying in the workplace
- What you can do to help prevent bullying
- Key points to consider when dealing with a bullying complaint
- Moving forward after a bullying complaint

Equality and Diversity UK

Key course information

- Delivered via Zoom
- Half day session
- This course can be tailored to suit your precise organisation needs.
- Delegates will receive an electronic certificate of attendance

