

The Windrush Generation - Let us celebrate their history

In 1948, Britain, had been shattered by war.

They asked for help, and the Windrush people answered the call

They came to help rebuild their Mother Country.

They left their homes, said goodbye to their life and families.

But they found Britain was not welcoming, it was hard to make friends, yet they smiled, worked hard, and continued to pretend.

Despite the hate, the bullying, the racism, and the hurt, they were loyal to Britain and continued to do their work

They had come to Britain to help the country and to better their lives, the people here didn't like them; yet despite the hatred they survived.

It is hurtful in 2022 to relive the memories; it makes them all upset.
However, the British people should show their gratitude and never ever forget.

They left their homes and families to help Britain grow.

Let's put our hands together and celebrate them, now their history is known

Thank you for your sacrifices, thank you for your travelling so far.

We, the children of Chesham, now know what heroes/heroines you are

Thank you Windrush generation for making our country great.

We will work to eradicate racism and to get rid of the hate.
